

♯ BOTTLE BONUS!

BOTTLE BONUS is a variation of TOKYO JUTAKU that uses pieces from JIDOHANBAIKI.

Time: 20-30 min

Players: 2-8

This game plays exactly as TOKYO JUTAKU does. After each round ends, before moving, the player who completed their building from the round will take a number of drinks randomly from the box equal to the number of other players. They will then drop those drinks into the vending machine all at once, and all other players may grab up to 1 drink that comes out of the vending machine.

These drinks now grant a special one-time use power to the players who grabbed them, based on the specific drink color as follows:

BLACK: Spend this drink to flip over your site card before you start building on it. Players cannot look at the back side before deciding to flip or not.

WHITE: Spend this drink and then place 1 piece on your site card before the round begins.

MINT: At any time during the round, spend your mint drink and yell 'put it back'. All other players must put back the piece they are currently using, or the last one they placed, and take a different piece from the supply.

BLUE: Spend this drink before one round of building. If you win that round, keep this drink next to your site cards for +200 yen (¥) at game end. If you do not win this round, discard this drink.

RED: Spend this drink to move 2 pieces at the same time for this round only. You will still only grab one piece at a time, but you may freely arrange it and one other piece on your building simultaneously.

PURPLE: During the move phase, spend this drink to move to any available site card on the map, ignoring regular movement rules.
